

Atima Mankotia, is a Professor in the area of Human Resource Management. She has completed her graduation and post-graduation from St Stephens College, and won a Gold Medal in her post-graduation in Delhi University. She has a diploma in Journalism from the UK and has completed PGCHRM from XLRI, Jamshedpur. She teaches Organisational Behaviour and Human Resource as well as Communication at IILM.

A published author and columnist with over 24 years of industry experience in media (journalism, editorial and communication) and HR, she perfectly bridges the gap between academia and industry.