

Dr. Sanyukta Jolly is currently working as a Professor and Area Chair of Organizational Behaviour and Human Resource Management at IILM. She has a work experience of 21 plus years and has been teaching undergraduate, graduate and executive level courses at IILM. She teaches core papers like-Organizational Behaviour, Human Resource Management and elective papers like Performance & Compensation Management, Industrial Relations and Labour Laws and HR Analytics. Dr. Jolly completed her PhD degree in 2009 in the area of Human Resources from Indian Institute of Technology, Delhi. Her research interests are in the area of Performance Management, Competency Mapping, Organizational Stress and Personality. She has been involved in behavioural and leadership training for senior executives and has been conducting behavioural and leadership workshops at various private and public sector organizations.